

2025 NEWGA Woman-Of-The-Year | Tracy Rupp (South Hills) Inducted by: Lynn Eck (Branch River) @ NEWGA Pro-Ladies (Oneida)

I would like to thank my committee, Amy Fronek, Sheli Moerchen, and Janet Schedler for their help this year.

This year's recipient of the NEWGA Woman-of-the-Year award is involved in many things, but God, family, and golf are the 3 biggest.

She has a passion for music and has been a choir director for Sunday school for numerous years. She has been involved with a local chorale group each Christmas season and as part of her church's choir. She also was a hotline volunteer for pregnant teens.

She has been married for 40 years and showers her 3 children and 7 grandchildren with never ending love and compassion.

When she was confronted with what could have been a debilitating autoimmune disease, she approached it with all the energy and perseverance she puts into everything she does. She even started a blog called "Healing autoimmune disease with faith, food, and support." She also counsels and provides support to others facing similar health challenges.

She has served on the South Hills Board of Directors, is a NEWGA Representative, was NEWGA Tournament Director, and is currently the Site Event Director. She and her NEWGA team have represented the Southern Division a number of times at the playoff. She had her first hole-in-one 2 years ago at Heritage Palms in Florida, where she is co-champion of their Member-Member tournament. Her best friend describes her as faithful, driven, and giving. You know a job will get done if she is at the helm.

I am pleased to introduce to you, the 2025 NEWGA Woman-of-the-Year, TRACY RUPP.
